SOUTH PARIS

Mrs. Nancy G. Spofford
Mrs. Nancy G. Spofford, who passed away on Nov. 17th at the home of her son in Providence, R. I., was for a number of years a resident of Oxford County and correspondent of the Advertiser.

She was the daughter of Samuel B. Sessions and Mary S. Doughty, who were born in 1841 and removed with her parents to North Woodstock. When about 18 years of age, she became the wife of Chas. H. Sessions of Milton Plantation, and lived on a farm in what was called the "Billings Neighborhood" in North Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Sessions removed from this farm about 1903 to South Paris, where they resided until the death of Mr. Sessions a few years later.

Several years after the loss of her husband, Mrs. Sessions continued her residence at South Paris and was married to A. J. Spofford of Hopkdale, Mass., formerly of Milton Plantation, with whom she lived at the time of her death, being taken ill and passing away while visiting her sons at Providence.

The deceased was the mother of five children, all of whom are still living with the exception of the second, Samuel D. Sessions, who died several years ago and who was for a number of years a member of the Providence police force.

Besides her husband, Mr. Spofford, and four sons, she leaves two brothers, Henry J. and Arthur S. Doughty, both of Providence, R. I.

Three Thousand Dollars Gift

The Seneca Club has received a $3,000 gift from Charles Deering of Chicago, son of the late William Deering, formerly of South Paris, for the purchase of a site on which a public library will eventually be erected.

The Stowell houses on Pleasant and Church streets adjoining the Deering Memorial church property has been secured and the buildings will be removed. This lot is centrally located and ideal for library purposes. Mrs. Kate Stuart, who has been interested in the club and a near neighbor to the Deering family when they were residents here, was instrumental in presenting the matter to Mr. Deering and securing the generous gift. Measures will be taken by the club to increase the nucleus previously started and erect a suitable building convenient in every way and an ornament to the village.

Lois Mary Tufts

Lois Mary Tufts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tufts of Portland, formerly of South Paris, who was about sixteen months of age, was fatally burned Tuesday morning, Nov. 27, and died in the hospital late in the evening. She and her brother, four years old, were up stairs at their home about ten o'clock in the forenoon of Tuesday, when the little boy called to his mother, and soon began to scream. Together they ran upstairs and found the little girl's clothes in flames. The brother said he lighted a match, but could not tell him what it did, though it was undoubtedly by that means that the child's clothing was set on fire. The funeral was held in Portland and attended by Rev. H. A. Clifford, a former pastor of the South Paris Methodist church, and the remains were brought here Thursday afternoon for burial in Riverside Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Tufts have six other children, the oldest of whom, Harold, now lives here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Tufts, and the youngest is a baby of two months.

Ladies' Sewing Club

A Ladies' Sewing Club has been organized for the purpose of sewing for the Children's Home at Augusta and needy families at home. They organized on the evening of Nov. 20, with the following officers:

Pres.—Mrs. Lena Porter.
Sec.—Mrs. Lucia Bean.
Treas.—Mrs. James Haynes.
Clerk.—Mrs. A. D. Park, Mrs. Nellie Powers, Mrs. Elizabeth Edgerly, Mrs. Arthur Cole, Mrs. Edith Burnell, Mrs. Margaret Bowker.

The members have done a large amount of work locally. They depend wholly upon contributions of material and money. When the funds run low each member is assessed, so the good work will not lag.

Dillon D. Fletcher

D. D. Fletcher died at his home on High Street, South Paris, Thursday evening, Nov. 2, from pneumonia, the attack lasting only four days. He had not been very strong for some time, and could not combat the disease.

He was born in Amherst, Hancock Co., sixty-two years ago, and a considerable portion of his life was spent there. Since coming to South Paris nine years ago, he has been in the employ of the Paris Manufacturing Co. Previous to that time he lived several years at Lockes Mills.

He married about forty-two years ago Lillian Sumner of Amherst, who survives him. They have one living daughter, Mrs. Lillian Lane of Boston. Another daughter, who was the wife of M. Ken-nagh, died some years ago and Mr. Ken-nagh and his daughter Lillian, now eleven years of age, and the only grandchild, are members of the Fletcher household.

Mr. Fletcher's mother, Mrs. Sarah Fletcher, is now living in Amherst, and though in the eighties is housekeeper for her son, Adelbert Fletcher. Two sisters of Mr. Fletcher also survive, Mrs. Clara Turner of Vezie and Mrs. Nehemiah Grover of Brewer.

Rev. Chester Gore Miller attended the funeral which was held at the Universalist church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

Raised Money For Over Drawn Orders

About thirty voters raised $2,000 at a special town meeting held Saturday afternoon, Nov. 24. Mr. J. S. Wright presided. Selectman Charles W. Bowker offered a statement showing that the highway appropriation had been overdrawn to the amount of $1,750, not including a $50 bill for plank and probably more items not turned in.

The motion was quickly carried to raise the above amount allowing the treasurer to borrow and place it in the 1918 assessment.

At the meeting of the ladies' Seneca Club held at the home of Mrs. Wirt Stanley Monday evening, the club voted to authorize the Library committee to see about forming a corporation for the purpose of receiving and holding the $9,000 received from Charles Deering for the prospective library. The club fully appreciated the generosity of the donor.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud L. Cushman will have for their Thanksgiving guests Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cushman of Lovell Center.

PUBLIC SAFETY MEASURES

Local Vigilance Corps
George P. Hathaway of this town has made public a request received from Richard M. Hurd, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the American Defense Society, urging citizens here to organize a local vigilance corps, for the purpose of aiding the Government in its campaign against German propaganda and enemy activity. The ship-building program which has been responsible for fires, ammunition plant explosions, sabotage, food scares and other attempts to damage the morale of the American people.

"Recent events in this country make it plain that the German method of propaganda, which has been so effective in Russia and Italy is now being attempted in this country with an alarming degree of success. German propaganda has long been supplied to our troops in the name of the ship-building program. The ship-building program is being interfered with by German-inspired strikes. Germans are directing the hoarding of food supplies to an extent that panics have already been prevalent in the leading cities. Newspapers are giving daily reports of fires in ammunition plants and grain depots and the country is now on the verge of an even greater calamity in the shape of a rail-road strike of unprecedented extent which threatens to cripple our national industry."

Need of Vigilance
The far-reaching need of the local vigilance corps can readily be seen when it is known that in this country alone there are today several million alien enemies representing Germany, Austria, Bulgaria, Turkey and other countries sympathetic to the Prussian autocracy.

Almost without exception these enemies are free to go about as they see fit, and while the Government has done much toward tightening the censorship of news and cables, nevertheless there are numerous channels by which these enemies are in touch with the directing genius of German propaganda in Berlin.

If Americans mean to stand by the men at the front, whose lives are already being sacrificed, and to stand by the Government, the opportunity is offered in this additional service they can give to this work of the American Defense Society.

How to Classify
The plan of organization undertaken by the Society and recommended to loyal Americans provides for the enrollment of every city and town which shall classify all residents under the following terms:

1. Loyal.
2. Disloyal.
3. Doubtful.
4. Unknown.

Following the general classification of citizens the Committee is urged to make further designation of the following list:

1. Alien enemy.
2. Pro-German.
3. Anti-Government.

In the letter of instructions to branch organizations the Executive Committee of the American Defense Society gives the following instructions:

Advertise the Enemies
"At the earliest possible moment, when you have your classification of alien enemies, pro-Germans, and those opposed to the Government in this war, send this list to the Police Department, the local representative of the Department of Justice and to whatever representative of the army or navy intelligence bureaus there is in your community. Do not let this matter rest, however, with this first classification of the enemies. Too much stress cannot be put on the importance of having your own Vigilance Corps take steps to watch alien enemies, pro-Germans, and those opposed to the Government. Only by such co-operation will you be able to give effective aid to the Government. Take every means you can to let the people of your city or town know the names of our enemies."

Unofficial announcement has already been made at Washington that the Government is about to register the alien enemies in America. Your Committee already having acted along such lines, will naturally be in a position greatly to aid the Government Census when such a census is taken. No doubt many attempts will be made to evade the official Government Census and information on the enemies in your community will therefore be of greatest value."

"You are enjoined to watch the speech, associations and activities of every man whom you may suspect of disloyalty and to send in the immediate report."

ARE WE WILLING TO DO IT?
WE MUST IF WE WIN THE WAR.
President Woodrow Wilson: "The time has come when * * * sacrifice and service must come from every class, every profession, every party, every race, every creed, every section. This is not a bankers' war, of a farmers' war, or a manufacturers' war, or a laboring man's war—it is a war for every straight-out American, whether our flag be by birth or by adoption. We are today a Nation in arms, and we must fight, farm, mine and manufacture, conserve food and fuel, save and spend to the one common purpose."

Anna Brooks of Auburn was the guest Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Richardson.

Annie Newcomb is to spend the week end with friends and relatives in Boston. Mrs. Ella J. Yeaton is visiting her son, Aaron H. Yeaton at Hopkdale, Mass.

The Home Missionary circle of the Methodist church will meet with Etta Noyes, Friday afternoon.

Rev. H. L. Nichols of the Methodist church was called out of the State, the last of the week, on a business trip. In his absence, Rev. Orin L. Stoen supplied for the forenoon service. Excellent music was furnished by the choir. The evening service was conducted by Rev. D. L. Joslin.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Cook of Ellsworth, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. M. L. Kimball, are visiting their son, Arthur E. Cook, at Rosinville, Mass. Later they will spend the winter with their son, Frank W. Cook, in Massachusetts.

Carroll, Jefferson Shoe Co. directors' meeting in Haverhill, Monday.

Marie Newton of South Paris is employed in the Brown, Buck & Co. dry goods store.

MR. AND MRS. J. M. MURCH

Married Fifty Years

Thanksgiving evening Mr. and Mrs. John M. Murch of South Paris are to observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary by an informal reception in Grand Army Hall, to which the immediate relatives, members of the Grand Army and Ladies of the Grand Army have been invited. Dainty refreshments will be served and a short musical program given.

Mr. Murch is a native of Paris, the son of the late Joseph and Hannah Murch and was born in 1843, was educated in the common schools of this town and at an early age developed a strong inclination toward mechanical pursuits. Being handy with tools, this natural constructive gift led him into an architect's office for the technical part of the building trade. Not contented with the slow moving machinery of the place he launched out as contractor and builder, easily gaining a foothold among the competitors of that time.

More than 23 years were spent along the Kennebec river, from Moosehead Lake to Richmond, where he constructed many substantial buildings that stand today as a testimony to his faithfulness. His specialty being church and mill work, he soon acquired an enviable reputation in the erection of public buildings in Lewiston, Waterville, Gardiner and Augusta, in this last city he was a successful contractor for 18 years.

His largest jobs were the building of the new Edwards cotton mills and their pulp mill, being employed four years by this wealthy corporation with every detail under his command. The big fishway at the Kennebec dam at Augusta is one of his successful practical schemes, which he constructed against much criticism from older contractors, who claimed it impracticable and could not be done.

Not being a robust man his health failed under the strenuous work and he moved his family to South Paris about 12 years ago, where he could follow his profession in a more leisurely manner. The family occupy a pretty cottage on Gothic street and enjoy all the comforts that go to make their residence a real home in every sense.

Mr. Murch is a Civil war veteran and quartermaster in the William K. Kimball Post. He has been a member of other fraternal orders, but retired because of his health, believing his energy should be given to assist the old soldiers in their declining years.

On Nov. 29, 1867, he married Lurina J. Field at Sumner. She was the daughter of Samuel B. and Almira (Parlin) Field and born in Altira in 1848. She attended the district school of the town and until her marriage remained at the home place. The young couple lived in West Sumner for about a year, then removed to a location where Mr. Murch's labors were carried on successfully for so many years.

Mrs. Murch is an efficient officer in the Ladies of the Grand Army and deeply interested in everything pertaining to the order.

Seven children have blessed this union, five are living, two daughters having passed on. They are E. H. Murch, now in the West, Ernest C. Murch, formerly of the Norway Advertiser, Percy E. Murch of South Paris, Mrs. Grace E. Murch of A. F. Stevens, druggist at Bethel, and Arthur H. Murch of So. Paris. There are six grandchildren.

Fifty years is a long span with shadow and sunshine, disappointments and success so blended into these two lives that in looking back over the winding trail, a prayer of thankfulness arises for this privilege of observing the golden anniversary, one of the mile stones that comparatively few live to reach.

The Browning Club
The Browning Reading Club met with Mrs. Everett F. Bicknell instead of Mrs. Wm. C. Leavitt, Monday evening. Mrs. Leavitt was called to the hospital, because of an accident to her father, Joseph Y. Keazer and cousin, Maria Keazer, who were run into by an automobile while riding in a carriage in Colebrook village. They were thrown out and the carriage damaged. While not seriously injured, they were badly shaken up and bruised, so that Miss Keazer was confined to her room.

The roll call was responded to by brief facts about Russia. Mrs. June Hutchins read an interesting article on "The Emancipation of the Serfs in Russia." In the absence of Mrs. Georgia Andrews, Mrs. Mary Cole was chosen to read in her place, "The Catechism of the Russian Church," also brief articles on the same subject from the Outlook.

Ralph W. E. Hunt of Portland was unable to speak to the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist society on Sunday evening because of illness. His coming to Norway has been postponed to Sunday evening, Dec. 16.

The Anton Nismi cow that strayed from the pasture a few weeks before, was seen with her calf in Ford Swan's field, Friday. It took three hours to capture her. The calf was all right, but the cow was more or less exhausted from cold and hunger.

The Barton Reading Club omit their meeting this week because of the holiday.

NOT DUE TO SEX
ALONE

Norway Women Have Learned The Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches.

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well-recommended by Norway people. Read this case:

Mrs. Myrtle Payne Hazen St., Norway, says: "A few years ago I was having pains across my back and kidneys. They annoyed me very much and on stooping or lifting, I felt them more. I found Doan's Kidney Pills very good for this trouble. As I used them, the pains gradually lessened and soon I was practically free from the trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills are surely worthy of recommendation."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Payne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

RUMINATIONS

A man is happiest by his own fireside. It is only contented there to abide. And doesn't you, my rightmost friend, With the upward trend of wood and coal, With plenty of books and papers to read, With a mind not obsessed by love of greed, Then let the wide world wag as it will, And never a thought for Keweenaw Bill!

And yet, when we think of this wide world, This reckless waste of human life, And when we note this present age, And view the people on the stage; How vast and Power and Science vie To rear a Structure larger and high, We ponder, for we faint would know Why this delusive overblow.

Why men, with tenfold energy, combine This edifice to undermine. Why they should leave the ways divine And bow before a heathen shrine, Forsake the flowery paths of peace; And tread the thorny lanes of hate; Invite war's destiny—its fate, With all its rude alarms and wars, And fill the world with sighs and tears.

Say not of nations, doom and hate, That 'tis the cruel way of fate! As Moses, by command of God, Twice smote the rock and waters flowed— To rear a Structure larger and high, Shall purify a world from sin, And bring the world to righteousness.

So let us optimistic be! We have a country large and free, In breadth, dividing sea from sea, Though darkening clouds perchance may lower, And from the west a storm may gleam; Amidst the gathering of the storm, Is heard the eagle's piercing scream.

Our Kith are brave and strong, Above their marching ranks is seen, The flag of Washington and Grant, And Gettysburg, with patriotic thrill, Has cherished memories for them still.

And 'tis for peace they cross the seas, To bow the knee will not appear, 'Tis for all nations' highest wealth, To show the laws will not appear, 'Tis that heroic Roman soul, Shall find release from hated Huns; To shield her daughter's honored name From degradation, curse and shame!

'Tis not the day, 'tis not the hour, 'Tis not the day, 'tis not the hour, Our liberties were dearly bought, Shall patriots have died for naught! Semble the sturdy flag will stand, And scorn the kaiser's hellish band, Pliny B. Henley.

THE FIRST TO DIE

By Don Seitz in N. Y. World
Tears for the first to die!
Nay, do not deplore
The sacrifice,
They only go before
A mightier throng!

Tears for the first to die!
These drops of blood
Are but beginnings
Of a new world,
That soon must flow!
Not later let us cry
"Others for the first to die!"
Who lead us on,
Whose souls are pilots
To a triumph won!

A WORD TO PARENTS

I desire to call to the attention of parents a condition which exists in connection with the Records of Birth in this town. I find that a large percentage of the Records do not give the name of the child, and this is a very essential part of the Record in order that the same may be complete and of value. Without the name the Record amounts to practically nothing. It is your duty under the Laws of Maine to furnish this information to the Town Clerk, and it is a matter which should have your prompt and careful attention. In years to come these Records may be of untold value to your child as a means of establishing the date and place of birth.

Below I give a list beginning with 1912 and continuing to Nov. 1st, 1917, showing the name of the father, sex of the child, and date of its birth as it appears on our Records, and I urge upon everyone whose name appears in the list to furnish me with the information asked for at an early date. It costs the Town considerable money each year to maintain this Department and unless the Records are complete, the money spent is practically thrown away. In the case of children born in the year 1917, the information should be handed in so that the name can appear when the list is printed in the Town Report. This matter is important to you and your child and you will not be doing your duty, either by that child or by the State, if you neglect this annual.

RUMFORD

Mechanics Institute
Six years ago, Hon. Hugh J. Chisholm alive to the best interests of the working people of Rumford, conceived the idea of having a building for the benefit of the people who work in the mills. It was intended that the building should furnish a place of recreation and rest to the workers of the mills. The plan was hailed with delight by the people and the several mill corporations volunteered to do their part in the maintenance of the Institute. With the promise of liberal support from the mills and also liberal support through membership from the employees of the mill, Mr. Chisholm's idea became a reality. During the next year, the beautiful building was constructed and placed Rumford in a class by itself in New England as it is the only building dedicated to the working people in New England. The building has attracted attention far and wide.

The Institute was a grand success for the first year. The membership was over 900 and interest ran high. But for some reason after the second year, interest lagged and with the loss of interest came the loss of members so that at the present time there are only about 200 members and a part of these are members of the Chamber of Commerce. The percentage of mill people is comparatively small. The government in charge of the Institute have done all they could to make it a success and to raise the membership. The corporations have given notice that unless there is an increase in membership they will withdraw financial support.

A meeting of the members of the Institute was recently held, the situation explained, and an endeavor agreed upon to secure 800 new members by those present and the institute could be put on a paying basis. The committee on organization of the campaign appointed included Mr. Parker, chairman; Dave G. York, Philip Marx, Frances Harris and Mrs. R. T. Parker.

If the institute cannot get onto a paying basis, it will be closed.

Blankets and Robes

Present market conditions indicate that an advance in price is not unlikely for all grades of stable and street blankets and robes. Jobbers stocks are reported to be unusually low and on many leading styles they are entirely sold out. This means a scarcity when retailers present stocks are exhausted, as it will be hard to get the desirable styles.

We have an unusually full stock of stable blankets in burlaps and ducks and in all the different styles of fasteners and surcingle. Prices on these goods are very low, considering their scarcity and the difficulty of getting them. Duck storm blankets in medium and large sizes.

THE COOPER SPRING

Did you ever go to the Cooper Spring? Some day when you are motoring Put in your jugs to get a load. It is in East Paris near the road.

It is four feet deep and five feet wide And silver weeds grow by its side. Through glancing and it bubbles up, And down a spout where hangs a cup.

It runs for horses, cows and dogs; It wets the meat to feed the hogs; It runs for women, short and tall, For fools and knaves, wise men and all.

It always runs the same cold stream, With the same force and sparkling gleam. It laughs at Rover and his crew, For conservation fit never knew.

The poor old horse is welcome there, Just as the young and handsome mare. The trough is full and running o'er, And how could mortal ask for more.

It makes the grass grow down below Where sturdy men in having none. It wets the children at their play, Summer and winter, night and day.

(P. S.—I wrote the poem hurriedly. I wrote it in a few minutes while my breakfast was cooking after returning from the spring with my jug of water.) W. W. Maxim.

UNLIMBER THE GUNS

Written for the Advertiser
Unlimber the guns, let them speak:
Let them sound the death knell
Of every servile minion of hell!
What! shudder the dagger and sword
Whilst yet like a flood ne'er ceases to flow
Armenian blood!
And shall humanity repine?
Then let the sun refuse to shine!
Is far peace they cross the seas,
To tow the knee will not appease.
'Tis for all nations' highest weal,
The sword and the last appeal,
'Tis that heroic Belgian sons
Shall find release from later sons:
To shield her daughter's honored name
From degradation's curse and shame.
'Tis not the day, 'tis not the hour,
To bow before a despot's power!
Our liberties we've dearly bought,
Shall patriots have them sold for naught?
Beneath the Stars and Stripes we'll stand,
And scorn the Kaiser's helish band!
Unlimber the guns, let them speak,
Bury the cursed Turk in depths profound!
Finlay B. Henley.

WAR-SAVINGS CERTIFICATE AND THRIFT STAMPS

Stamps known as United States war savings certificate stamps and as United States Government thrift stamps have been issued by the United States Secretary of the Treasury as a means of raising money for government purposes.

Each purchaser of war savings certificate stamps will be furnished free with a United States war savings certificate, to which certificate stamps shall be affixed. The certificate is not transferable and is of no value unless one or more war savings certificate stamps are affixed. The name and address of the owner will be placed on each war-savings certificate by the postmaster at the time it is issued.

The war savings certificate stamps will be sold during December, 1917, and January, 1918 for $4.12 and will be increased one cent each month thereafter during 1918.

A stamp called a thrift stamp valued at 25c will be sold those deserving and the purchaser is presented a thrift certificate to place the thrift stamps on. These stamps do not bear interest, but when one has 16 of them, they are exchanged for the certificate stamp bearing interest. These stamps go on sale Dec. 3rd and will continue on sale during the year 1918 and it is the purpose of the government to sell $2,000,000,000 worth at par value. It has been figured out that it makes an average of $16.50 for each man, woman and child in the United States. This means Norway should invest in certificate stamps to the amount of $30,000 to aid the government in raising money.

CONCENTRATING BUSINESS

When a man doubles his business, he does not usually double his expenses or anywhere near it. Consequently as a business grows it can afford to sell cheaper.

The way for a man to get that growth is to advertise, to tell people about his trade, about his goods, his bargains and point of view. It is hard to find a well advertised business that does not grow.

Merchants that advertise ought to have public support as a growing business is in a position to sell cheaper. It is for the public interest to back up an enterprise that has life and push, and which if given this support can do business on a large enough scale to offer low prices.

Small, non-advertised businesses are not apt to be economical. The proprietor may work very hard to please. But his personal living costs and his rent and other expenses have to be paid for out of the selling price of the goods. If not many goods are sold, every single article has to bear a large share of these expenses. Patronize the growing merchant who advertizes!

A nation wide Christmas membership drive has been planned by the Red Cross War Council. The building up of Red Cross membership to 15,000,000 in the United States is the goal of the campaign. This means an addition of approximately 10,000,000 names to the present muster roll. The drive is to start December 17, and continue unceasingly to Christmas Eve. A national Christmas membership drive committee has been appointed by the War Council to have general charge of planning and later conducting the whole campaign. "Make it a Red Cross Christmas" is to be the recruiting slogan.

WILL MATERIALISM INCREASE?

What will be the effect of the great conflict upon the inner life of the people affected? Will the old ideas and aspirations for something above and beyond what earth can give, survive, or will the world be engulfed in a wave of materialism that shall undo and nullify the efforts of the seers and prophets of the ages?

Wars among Christian nations are as fatal to the higher life of the people affected as is apostasy to the community. The failure of a people to live up to the highest of their ideals, spreads in other peoples a contempt for those ideals. Will this be the outcome of the present conflict?

We for one do not believe it will. We do not believe it, for the reason that the world—or at least the greater part of it—is today fighting materialism in its most dangerous form. We insist that the responsible for this war, the higher life is a negative quantity, or at best so dwarfed and warped by false views of life as to be entirely overshadowed by the baser nature.

The world has pretty well arrived at a definite knowledge of the fact that William of Germany is the source and inspiration of the conflict. True he was aided and abetted by kindred spirits, but those spirits were powerless without his word.

What, then, is the nature of Kaiser William? First, he is a monarch who, throughout his whole reign, has insisted that he rules by divine right. So ruling, in his opinion, can do no wrong. His rights are to him bounded and circumscribed only by his own desires. That those desires relate to his own glory and that of his close following, there can be no doubt. The masses of the German people have been dazzled by the glittering display of militarism and the bright promises held out to them in the event of victory, but the radiance of those visions is fading, and soon they will pass away, leaving the German people to face the coldly material fact of defeat. Fortunately they will be when if they can grasp the full extent of the unworthiness of the cause in which they have been fighting.

But among the allied peoples the knowledge that they are fighting to preserve the highest and noblest phases of life, takes deeper root as the conflict progresses. Their victory must be, they fully realize, a victory over materialism, and materialism of the crassest kind. They have no dreams of world empire, simply a consuming desire to live their lives according to their highest lights.

We believe that when the smoke of the conflict shall have passed, the world, shocked and horrified at the results of materialism, will decree that never again shall it prevail, and that mankind shall be free to pursue its way onward and upward to the great destiny awaiting it.

Federal Licenses for Explosives
The new Federal Explosive Regulation act went into effect Nov. 15, which provides that any person having use for explosives must first obtain from a licensing officer in his county a legal permit, stating the manner in which the explosives are to be used and that such material will be properly accounted for. Aliens accredited to nations unfriendly to the United States cannot procure a license.

Clerk of Courts, Ernest J. Record, has been authorized to grant licenses in Oxford County. Applicants must appear in person at the County buildings, South Paris, and fill out certain blank forms under oath. Failure to do this means a fine not exceeding $5,000 or a year in the penitentiary.

As a convenience to the public it is expected that a responsible person will be appointed in Bethel, Fryeburg, Rumford and at some point in the lake region to issue licenses under instructions from the clerk of court. This arrangement is not a fact as yet, but it has been suggested to officials in Washington and an early reply expected.

OLD TIME RECIPES

The following recipes will be of much interest to every woman who reads them.

Wheatless Days
It is pleasing to note how readily our loyal women pledge themselves to refrain from eating wheat, on two days each week.

For the mothers, it is only an opportunity to try their hand, which they welcome; but it will not be strange if some of them thrill over the fear that their families, so long accustomed to white flour, may find their tedious duty.

Let it be once understood that the white flour to which all Americans are accustomed is a very inadequate food, that it can neither build blood nor tissue, except fat, and the possibility comes into view that the proposed substitutes may bring great benefits to us, as a nation.

There are many old fashioned foods which are not only appetizing but sufficient to the needs of the body.

A few old time recipes may be useful here. Corn meal is not improved by soda, but should be scalded.

An Old Time Bannock
Two cups corn meal, one teaspoon each of salt and sugar, mix with boiling water, until of a consistency that does not pour, but drops from the spoon and holds its shape.

Pat the dough with a moist palm, into a hot iron spider, making it quite thin. Bake in a hot oven to a good brown.

This needs only to be well chewed to be appreciated.

If one happens to be boiling pumpkin or squash at the time, the meal may be scalded with some of either and the flavor will only be improved.

Breakfast Fritters
1 cup sour milk, 1 egg, 1 spoonful shortening, 1 cupful boiled squash, 1 cupful corn meal, 1-2 cup rye flour, 1 even teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Bake on soapstone griddle or fry as flapjacks. Serve with syrup or with butter and sugar.

The squash may be modified by using 1 cupful of cold boiled rice, instead of meal and rye and for the balance of thickening use cream of wheat.

These are much improved by baking to a fine brown on a soapstone griddle.

Steamed Brown Bread
1 cup rolled oats, 1 cup corn meal, 1 cup rye flour, 1 cup sour milk, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup sweet milk or lukewarm water, 1-2 cup molasses. Scald meal with boiling water. Mix all together and bake in iron pan or a kettle, four or five hours.

The crust of this brown bread should be saved to make the next loaf of bread. This should be broken up and started in cold water, then boiled until fine and smooth and used for sealing the meal for the next loaf. The first will never be as good as the second, for this reason. Cover the loaf with a folded paper to save scorching the crust as it bakes.

Corn Meal Pudding
3-4 cup sugar, yolks of three eggs, 4 tablespoons meal, salt. Beat all together, add cold milk enough to make smooth. Stir this into one quart of boiling milk, stirring until it thickens. Beat the whites to a stiff froth and stir lightly into the above mixture. Pour all into a fire proof dish and bake one hour. Serve with cream or hard sauce.

Hot Lettuce or Vegetable Turkey
(A good meat substitute)
Mix together 3 cups of chopped walnuts, 3 cups of dry bread crumbs, 3 cups of milk, with 1 teaspoon of butter dissolved in some of the milk, 2 teaspoons of salt, and nutmeg to taste. Last, stir in 6 well beaten eggs. Bake 30 minutes in a brisk oven. Half of the recipe makes a large quantity.

Sweet Potato Pie
Peel and wash boiled sweet potatoes while hot; rub through a sieve, and to each pint of pulp add one quart of milk, 1 tablespoon of melted butter, 1 cup of sugar, 3 eggs and a pinch of salt; flavor with nutmeg or lemon; line deep pie pans with the mixture and bake.

Use the whites of eggs for the meringue allowing one tablespoonful of sugar to each; if care is taken that the pies do not cool suddenly the meringue will stay light and fluffy; otherwise it is apt to fall and look leathery. If meringue is not liked maple syrup may be covered scantily over the pie and covered with heaped up whipped cream.

Meat Stew with Dumplings
Make a stew from a cheap cut of meat cut into small pieces, potatoes, and such other vegetables are desired. Thicken with a little flour diluted with cold water.

Serve with dumplings made as follows: Mix and sift one cup of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and one and a half teaspoonful of salt. Work in with the fingers one teaspoonful of butter; add gradually one-third of a cup of milk, or a little more if needed. Roll out one-half inch thick and cut with a biscuit cutter or in square pieces. The dumplings may be steamed, baked like biscuits, or cooked with the stew. In the latter case remove enough liquid to permit the dough to be placed on the meat and vegetables.

Truman Came Out Victorious

In a hand-to-hand wrestling match, Norway Opera House Tuesday evening, Truman of Norway, Maine's middle weight champion, won a fall over Winfred Barrett of Michigan, the second best of the middle weight in nine minutes.

This brings the Maine strong man world's champion, who sent up a written challenge to meet the winner. This was accepted by Truman after the battle and arrangements are being made to stage the big event here if the local sports so desire.

The show opened with George Bean of Waterford and Charlie Howe of Norway to try conclusions in the preliminary. It was the old fashioned collar and elbow game, the self same stunt or grandstandees tussled over on the country green sward, but new to this generation.

The conditions were best two in three, feet off the mat taking the place of shoulders down. Howe showed more knowledge of the art and won two straight in 7 minutes. W. Frank Stairs referred the bout.

Frank McGinley of South Paris and Omar King of Island Pond showed class in the semi final which proved a cyclone clear through. McGinley weighed 130 pounds and King five pounds lighter.

Island Pond boy was the aggressor from the start with McGinley following up every opening with a clinch that was hard to break. Referee Legendre of Lewiston kept the boys from the ropes, putting off ideas new to this place and not altogether a popular stunt with the crowd. Both wrestlers worked hard and rapid with no hint about stalling. King proved calm like in every move, but McGinley played a gray matter game and blocked many dangerous holds. However, King won both falls in 6-9 minutes and 13-12 minutes respectively.

All admit the main bout was a great show and filled with surprises. Winfred Barrett, the hero of 500 ring battles with a reputation so strong his picture occupies first page space in the standard sporting papers, went in, giving Homer Truman an unusual handicap, guaranteeing to throw him three times within an hour or forfeit the purse. Truman to win must dodge a fall in the time or take one from the near-champion.

Both men entered the ropes in prime condition. Barrett weighed 165 pounds and Truman 170, yet the Michigan giant lined up more in keeping with the role, being a finely proportioned chap with the proper muscles trained to an edge. This mountaineer appearance gave an impression of an easy winner, but it was the great eye opener came in.

The bout opened with caution spried on the back of each, neither fighter telling anything rash during the first three minutes. Barrett opened first with a quick leg grip that lifted Homer onto his toes but that was all for the Norway athlete blocked that hold, working around the neck and shoulders for a clinch, sent both to the carpet with Homer curled about his antagonist with a leg and toe hold that proved a surprise and could not be broken. Very few openings were left for Barrett to use, and he was left for Truman to pull off a few easy ones. By rapid leg and arm work, Truman coaxed his friend into the famous body to the ring fall and winning in 9 minutes. The crowd were on their feet in an instant with everybody excited, having witnessed the best and cleanest match given this season.

A. G. Legendre, manager of the Canadian Athletic Club of Lewiston, was refereed, with Mickey Welch and Giles Frost timed. W. Frank Stairs of Norway promoted and managed the show, doing the honors up brown.

After the match in interview, Winfred Barrett said, "Truman is a great wrestler and the best man I have ever been in a bout against. His leg muscles are superb and almost an impossibility to break their hold. I lost to a better man fair and square, so have no alibi. Have met splendid look in with him, he has the world's champion in the same physical condition he showed tonight. That winning hold he had on me was the worst thing I ever encountered." This is the first time a champion has been defeated in a world's championship match.

Stones reading the lecture as the pictures were shown, which were very instructive and interesting. The pictures dealt principally with the time of the Reformation and the people whose life exerted the greatest influence toward the separation from the old church. Walter C. Smith, run the stereopticon lantern.

Governor Miliken appointed Albert J. Stearns, Esq. of Norway, George M. Atwood of Paris, Matthew McCarthy of Rumford, as the legal advisory board for Oxford County to aid in the enforcement of the selective service law.

Between 30 and 40 couples were seen dancing and skating rink at South Paris Saturday evening, walked home with the mercury about 10 above zero and windy. Some misunderstanding about a late car caused this inconvenience.

LOOKING BACKWARD

In Bolster's Mills

By Granville Fernald

Pinhook! That was the name of it for years, long after the first dam was built and the first saw mill and grist mill were erected by Isaac Bolster in 1819 and 1820, at the present mill site. Before that time a dam had existed a half mile below the present dam, of which only a vague remembrance remained when I first became a resident of the village. At the site of the "old dam" we boys, Henry and Otis Haskell, George Waterhouse and others, had a favorite deep pool for swimming, which is doubtless the same today. Isaac Bolster who owned the water power and erected the mills, which were entitled to bear his name from the first, was a resident of Paris, and never lived at Bolster's Mills. But his son, Isaac Bolster, Jr., as successor to his father, and proprietor of the water power and mills, settled there in 1821 and lived there 15 years. Two of his children were born there, viz., Eleanor and John Augustus, who are well remembered by some Norway citizens yet living.

Isaac Bolster, Jr. built the first store on the Otisfield side of the river, according to authentic history, which was once occupied by George Fernald, Esq., and for many years by Wyatt Turner. Isaac Skillings has occupied that store many years since Mr. Turner's time as general merchant and postmaster. In 1826 William Bolster, brother of Isaac J., settled here and became identified with him in the milling business, but sometime thereafter, the exact year is unknown, the sawmill and grist mill became the property of Daniel Weston, who settled in the village and erected the house and barn now owned by Fred Weston, in late years greatly improved by reconstruction and addition.

William Bolster established an important new industry soon after moving here, that of cloth-dressing by fulling domestic made cloth, woven in the farmers' home and finishing it into a fabric about as handsome as imported broadcloth. This business flourished for many years. Mr. Bolster's chief assistant for years as an expert workman was William C. Hill, who married Charlotte Bray and eventually settled on the homestead of Dea. Edward Bray near the old Free Baptist meeting house. They were the parents of two sons, distinguished in their mature life as physicians. Dr. Edward Henry Hill was the founder of the Maine Central General Hospital in Lewiston, and Dr. Horace B. Hill was nearly 30 years assistant superintendent of the Maine Insane Asylum at Augusta. But this is a digression. I will tell the reader something about the village and its people 75 years ago, as it is yet pictured in my memory.

On a day in April, 1838, my father moved from my birthplace, the present residence of Merrill Pease in Otisfield to the village of Pinhook. My household goods were transported mostly in a common hayrack and Moors Hancock drove the team of oxen that hauled the cart. I was a little past my tenth year and well remember the emotion of expectancy and elation of the day when we moved to the village. The moving team and driver were at the top of the "Great Hill" and took a survey of the beautiful valley before me, the "promised land" of many previous dreams. My father owned by purchase a large tract of land in the village, consisting of Oliver Hancock and others, and he had a vision of the future of the village. I was a boy of about 10 years at the time, and in connection with his trade as carpenter, millwright and carriage-maker, was a farmer and a very busy man. At that time there was no dwelling house on the "new road" as it was called, from Wyatt Turner's store to the foot of the hill leading to Sparrow's Corner. My father soon commenced the erection of his new house, the same for many years past owned by Benjamin J. Skillings and family, in the construction of which I assisted, and remember of helping to make the interior of the house.

Knights, the mason, who built the Samuel Knapp house, who built the first mill, and plastered the first rooms of the new house. The first house erected on the road, after ours, was directly opposite and I think was built by Jonathan S. Smith, a relative, who by trade was a cooper. My father by trade was a cooper, and his wife was Mary Barrows, sister of George W. Barrows, worthy C. Barrows, and Dr. Horace A. Barrows, all then or afterward active residents of the village. That house in after years became the home of the family of Joseph Pike, in whose family it remains to this time. Near the time of the erection of the Pike residence, Francis Chute came to Pinhook and established himself as blacksmith in a shop on the Otisfield end of the bridge, previously occupied for some years by Moses H. Stuart, eldest son of Capt. Wentworth Stuart, who died in his young manhood. Mr. Chute was a man of excellent character, very industrious and public spirited. The same should be recorded of all whom I have mentioned, and I did not recognize him ever deserved to be called a leader, he is now unmentionable. For a year or two, until our new house was ready to live in, we resided in a house belonging to Dr. Silas Blake, in which his family lived until a large house up toward the great hill was built, with the barn and outbuildings. There he settled on a fine large farm and was for many years the beloved physician to a community of citizens of the two adjoining towns. He died Feb. 2, 1859. He was succeeded as a physician by his son, Josiah M. Blake, after whom came Dr. Albion Cobb, who practiced his profession several years and was much identified with the educational interests of the town. Dr. S. Lot on Weston and Dr. A. E. Wight have served this community in the medical practice many years to this time. In 1838 there were two old houses on the south side of the main street on the Ot

What Gift Can Compare With Norway Advertiser

If it cost a consideration, how could you possibly make your good wishes felt, throughout an entire year, for so trivial a sum.

If the decision turns on sentiment, how will it be possible to keep alive your own memory better than by placing before your friend, week by week, the happenings of Oxford County, or of that part of it which is or has been your home and his.

If a practical gift is sought, what could be of more actual value than week by week information of what is going on in Oxford County, that section in which has occurred and will occur more events of vital interest to you and your friends than all the world besides.

Every consideration makes "The Norway Advertiser" the gift among gifts, to anyone who lives or has ever lived in Oxford County.

Rates: 4 mos., 50 cents; 6 mos., 75 cents; 8 mos., $1.00; 12 mos., $1.50; 16 mos., $2.00. Credit extended for only one year. Address: Advertiser, Norway, Me.

Can any old apple grower tell through the columns of the Advertiser what is the best stuff to spray apple trees in the spring to prevent the blossoms from blighting?

U. S. Senator Fernald Addresses Teachers
Thirty-eight of the forty-two teachers in the Paris and Woodstock district were in attendance at the teachers' meeting at the South Paris high school building, Saturday. Superintendent True C. Morrill of the Norway and Waterford district and a number of the Norway teachers were also here. A good program was carried out substantially as was announced.

At the general session in the forenoon, the principal address was by Edith B. Hunt, dean of Nassau Institute, Springfield, who spoke on Home Economics. She also explained the details of the work at some of the department sessions in the afternoon.

Dinner was served to the visiting teachers by the Service League at Grand Army Hall.

Department sessions occupied the first part of the afternoon, and at 2.30 United States Senator Bert M. Fernald, gave an address in the assembly room to the teachers and a number of the citizens who had assembled. Senator Fernald spoke on the topic of success in life, and followed with a patriotic talk regarding the present situation. He takes an optimistic view of the war situation and the effect which America's participation will have and seems to think that the coming of peace will be only a matter of months.

A banquet was given in the Universalist church vestry, Friday evening by the girls of Paris high school in honor of the foot ball team. An excellent oyster stew was prepared and served by Mrs. William Ripley and Mrs. Ella Young at 6 o'clock, at the close of which "toasts" were in order, with Henry Wetherell as toastmaster. The annual fair of the Universalist parish was held Thursday afternoon and evening, and notwithstanding the stormy weather, a large number attended. The articles on the various tables sold well. The decorations were autumn leaves tastefully arranged about the hall and tables. There was no candy table, but molasses popcorn balls and home made cream substituted with good results. The food table was amply supplied, but a generous patronage soon depleted the large stock.

Mrs. Frank Edwards on her 79th birthday that occurred Friday, received a bouquet of chrysanthemums and a post card shower given by the Pythian Sisters. Relatives and friends called during the day, extending congratulations and tokens. She is remarkably active and does fine handiwork with her needles besides attending to household duties.

Wilson, a duet by Misses Barnes and Graves, and a trio by Mrs. Wilson, Helen M. Barnes and Ralph Edwards. A poem was read by Mrs. Alta Rankin.
